The diagram consists of two parts. On the left, there is a diamond shape with a black triangle at its top vertex, representing a road segment. To its right, the text "北側道路沿い 全地域" (Along the northern side of the road, throughout the area) is written above a horizontal line. To the right of this line is a rectangular box containing diagonal hatching, with the text "南側全地" (Entire southern area) written below it. Further to the right is another horizontal line with the text "無印 全地" (Unmarked, throughout the area).

北側全地域 道路

The diagram illustrates the spatial relationship between the '北側全地域' (Northern Area) and '南側道路沿い' (Along the Southern Road). It features two horizontal lines representing boundaries. The top line is labeled '北側全地域' and the bottom line is labeled '南側道路沿い'. A central vertical line connects these two boundary lines. To the left of this vertical line, there is a small triangular symbol pointing upwards, positioned between the two horizontal lines.
